To qualify for AKFRP status you need to have completed 1200 hours of training. This must include 600 hours of kinesiology training (Foundation & Advanced) within one KF recognised advanced training programme, or two complete KF recognised advanced courses.

As well as your 600 hours of kinesiology training, you will also have completed 210 hours of core subject training, in order to upgrade to KFRP, which totals 810 hours. The remaining 390 hours can be doing additional kinesiology courses and/or other therapy training courses.

Please list below the courses that are to make up the 1200 hours and remember to enclose copies of all certificates.
